

No Recognition to E. Germany, U. S. Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said today the United States has no intention of recognizing the Communist East German regime or any administrative entities of it.

Press officer Joseph W. Reap made this statement when reporters asked what the U.S. attitude is in view of the reported replacement of the Russian commandant in East Berlin with an East German general.

Does the United States intend to recognize the East German Communist regime, a reporter asked.

"No," Reap replied, and added: "And this includes all other parts of it, its administrative entities."

He said the U.S. British-French statement expected to be issued later today will "reflect our attitude" on this latest move in Berlin.

"Any changes like that do not affect Allied rights and Soviet responsibilities in Berlin," Reap said.

Concerning the three-power statement, first expected to be issued at mid morning, Reap said he was not in position to give any time as the statement is not yet ready.

An inter-Allied group of representatives of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany has been working on the statement since early this morning.

It will be a joint communique of the three powers directly interested in Berlin and therefore its wording requires clearance of all three governments, Reap said.

Less officially, it had been explained earlier that there was no disagreement among the Western nations but that suggestions as to details of wording were under consideration.

Asked about the U.S. position on the dispute at Checkpoint Charlie in Berlin where Soviet armored vehicles carrying Russian soldiers to the Soviet monument in the British sector were held up, Reap said regulations in Berlin provide that armed vehicles be under escort while in the Western part of the city.

Church Sued for $112,000 by Texan

TEXARKANA, Tex., (AP) — A Texan has filed a damage suit in federal court here seeking $112,000 from a Georgia church and its moderator. Defendants denied a claim of fraud.

J. D. Estes of Bowie County, Tex., filed the action Wednesday for himself and his sons, Jesse and James. Named defendants were Herbert Pratt and the Church of God of the Union Assembly, Inc., of Georgia.

Pratt was identified as moderator of the church which has its main offices and place of business in Georgia. Estes is a former member of the church and formerly worked for the organization.

Estes said he gave up a job, sold his property, turned the proceeds over to Pratt, and moved his family to Dalton, Ga., because of what he termed "the persuasion and fraudulent misrepresentations" of Pratt.

Estes claims he is seeking recovery of losses accrued as a result of following Pratt and also is seeking punitive damages. The plaintiff claims that Pratt caused him to quit his job at Red River Army Depot near here in 1958 to "take his family to Dalton to serve God and the church. He said they sold out and gave the money to Pratt for furthering the Christian faith."

Try Made to Kill France's DeGaulle

PARIS (AP) — Police today sought a band of Secret Army Organization killers whose bullets missed President Charles de Gaulle by only inches in an ambush on the outskirts of Paris.

An investigation indicated that Wednesday night's assassination attempt was the second planned this month on the 71-year-old French leader. The other failed to come off.

De Gaulle, unruffled but admitting he had "a close shave," rested with his wife at their guarded country home at Colombey les Deux Eglises.

The police search centered on a dark-haired man, about 30, who rented one of the ambush cars from a suburban garage three days ago. The light panel truck was found booby-trapped and abandoned a few hours after the assassins fired at the motorcade taking De Gaulle to a military airport.

The garage owner, who supplied the clue, said the same dark-haired man rented the same truck for five days on Aug. 4. Police noted that period coincided with De Gaulle's trip to Paris from his country home. He gave a luncheon Aug. 8 at Elysee Palace for visiting Dwight D. Eisenhower.

De Gaulle had come to the Capital Wednesday for a Cabinet meeting to draft stronger measures to stem a wave of terrorism blamed on right-wing extremists from Algeria.

De Gaulle's car was hit by at least 10 bullets in a heavy cross-fire as it sped along a road to the Villacoublay airport.

One of the bullets missed him by only two inches. Others broke the rear window and pierced side windows. The president was showered with glass but unhurt.

The gunmen—believed numbering at least 10—fired about 150 bullets at the motorcade and hit some of the other cars.

No one in De Gaulle's party was hurt. A passing motorist was wounded in the hand.

Interior Minister Roger Frey said puncture-proof tires on the president's car and on the police car which followed him were a saving factor. Bullets hit the tires but the cars were able to speed on.

De Gaulle, disdainful of his own safety, always travels in an ordinary French car, but security officials said an attempt will be made now to get him to use a car with bullet-proof glass.

Incendiary grenades were found near the scene of the attack. De Gaulle was still covered with glass when his car arrived at the airport three miles away. He appeared unperturbed and absolutely calm.

Removal Suit
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit to remove Pulaski Rep. J. H. Cottrell from the legislature because he is a member of the Little Rock school board was filed here Wednesday. The suit was filed by Sam Fowler of Pulaski County. Fowler said the state constitution prohibits legislators from holding any other public offices. It maintained the school board post was a civil office. State Auditor Jimmy Jones and State Treasurer L. A. Clayton were named co-defendants in the suit, which asked they be enjoined from paying Cottrell any state funds.

U. S. Detains 3 Red Trucks for Over an Hour

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP) — Three Soviet armored vehicles taking guard replacements to the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin were detained by the U.S. at Checkpoint Charlie more than an hour today.

At 2:45 p.m. the armored personnel carriers the Russians have used for guard movement since Tuesday were still at the checkpoint.

Witnesses reported three American military vehicles were blocking the Russians' way into West Berlin.

During the night, U.S. Army cars made unopposed excursions into East Berlin to test whether Moscow's abolition of the Soviet commandant's office would be followed by efforts to limit Western movements in the Communist part of this divided city.

Although East German guards made no attempt to interfere with the American vehicles, U.S. authorities said it was still too early to conclude that harassing measures were not in the offing.

One U.S. Army vehicle crossed from West Berlin into the Communist sector just before midnight and returned without difficulty through Checkpoint Charlie, entry point through the Berlin Wall for military personnel.

Two more U.S. Army cars followed without meeting any delays. The Russians, who announced Wednesday they were doing away with the office of city commandant and transferring his duties "temporarily" to Gen. Ivan Yakubovsky, the Soviet commander for East Germany, who has headquarters at Potsdam, just west of Berlin.

Western officials viewed the action as a Communist effort to cut one more "slice of salami" from Western occupation rights in the campaign to force the allies out of the city. Communist propaganda organs were expected to argue that the Soviets no longer needed a military authority in Berlin and neither did the Allies.

The United States, Britain and France took the view that the sudden switch of command on the Soviet side did not affect Western rights or the Soviet responsibility for what goes on in East Berlin.

President Kennedy told a news conference the Soviet Union could not affect rights of the four occupation powers by a one-sided decision.

The Soviet action, however, had the effect of severing connections between the Russians and the American, British and French commandants in Berlin. The Soviet commandant was the official to whom the Western commandants delivered protests against actions by the East German regime affecting West Berliners and Allied personnel in West Berlin, as well as protests against the shooting of East Germans trying to escape across the Berlin wall.

Western protests now must be made by Allied military commanders in West Germany to Yakubovsky, but the change presumably will have little actual effect. The Russian commandant in East Berlin invariably told his Allied counterparts to take their protests to the East German government, which the Allies refuse to recognize or do business with.

Communist Ships on Way to Cuba

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen Communist ships were reported en route to Cuba today.

They are in addition to 16 vessels said to have docked at Cuban ports late last month with an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 Communist bloc technicians plus large quantities of goods including weapons.

President Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday the U.S. government has information that Red "supplies and technicians of rather intensive quantity in recent weeks" have been landing on the Caribbean island.

Kennedy gave no figures, but said there is no information that Russian soldiers have come to Cuba or that the Communist bloc is a buildup for an invasion of another country.

The President declined to assess the significance of the stepped-up assistance to the Communist-linked regime of Fidel Castro, saying "We are examining it now."

Other U.S. authorities indicated they do not yet know what the Reds are up to.

One speculation is that Moscow wants to strengthen the Communist hold on Cuba by sending in large numbers of "technicians" who will operate in key positions.

Another is that the Cuban economy is sagging so badly that the Communist bloc has decided massive aid is needed to revive its Western Hemisphere ally.

It is speculated also that the Communist help—while not of the kind for any large scale foreign attack—will augment efforts to export communism from Cuba to other Latin American countries through subversive means.

Electricians Returning to Missile Jobs
HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Electricians started showing up for work today at the Marshall Space Flight Center—their first work appearance at vital space projects in 10 days.

"We've got 27 electricians on the job now," said a spokesman for the center. "We think the number will increase later today."

All told, 107 union electricians were employed on space projects and about 40 on military rocket projects when the strike was called. The projects include the C5 Saturn booster for the U.S. planned moonshot.

The appearance of the electricians came on the heels of a federal court order that they go back to their jobs. The National Labor Relations Board had a team of investigators on hand to see if the order was obeyed.

The head of the electricians local said shortly before the shift started that he would instruct all the members at a meeting tonight to return to work.

And, added James Haygood, business manager of Local 558 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, "I think maybe a few of them might go back today."

The Hempstead County Welfare Office has moved from Front St. downtown to 408 South Walnut. This is the building formerly occupied by Meyer's Bakery as a store house and depot. Although still in the process of cleaning and straightening up the office is open to the public as usual.

Bryant Feels Grateful for Election

The following statement was issued by Secretary of State Kelly Bryant:

"The Democratic Primaries are over, and I feel both grateful and humble that the people of Arkansas have chosen me to be their next Secretary of State. I especially desire to express my personal thanks to the many citizens who appeared at the polls for the second primary. In many counties the race for Secretary of State was the only issue involved.

Wide spread misunderstanding and confusion clouded the run-off activities in this race. I sincerely hope that the election laws will be clarified by our next Legislature.

Both of my campaigns were conducted free and independent of other races, and I want the citizens of Arkansas to know that the Secretary of State's office will always maintain an "Open Door Policy."

Many of the policies and programs established by the late C. G. "Crip" Hall and carried on by Mrs. Hall, I hope to continue. Among these are the Christmas lighting of the beautiful capital building, and beautification of the grounds.

It has been a very interesting summer, and I have certainly learned much about the great state of Arkansas. I enjoyed the opportunity of meeting and talking with thousands of fine people. I am deeply grateful to all of the people of Arkansas for providing me the opportunity to serve them in the office of Secretary of State. I pledge my sincere efforts to serve the people and my state well."

Two Escapees Are Captured; Marlar Is Still at Large

ATLANTA, Tex. (AP)—Two of three men who broke out of the Miller County Jail at Texarkana (Ark.) last Sunday were captured at Atlanta, Tex., early today.

Cass County (Tex.) Sheriff Bill Dowd said the two men were Charles Easley, 20, of Fouke, Ark., and Melvin Simmons, 41, of Oregon.

A third escapee Jerrell Marlar of Hope, who was charged with murder, is still at large.

Simmons and Easley were captured as they walked down a Texas & Pacific Railroad track north of Atlanta, which is 25 miles south of Texarkana.

Officers received a tip that Simmons and Easley stopped at a Negro's house and asked for a glass of water and were walking down the tracks.

Dowd said officers stationed themselves at intervals along the track and saw the men walking. When Simmons and Easley were a few feet from a few of the officers, a spot light was put in their faces.

They gave up without a struggle. Neither of the escapees was armed.

"All I saw was a big light and gun barrels," Simmons told newsmen later.

They told police that they had not seen Marlar since Sunday.

Miller County Sheriff Rudy Burgess said the two men told him they hid out in a small house located in a junkyard about four blocks from the jail after breaking out Sunday. The men said they slept during the day and walked at night.

Easley was returned to Texarkana this morning, and Simmons remained in the Cass County Jail where he is being held for federal authorities on charges of car theft and unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Easley and Simmons told police they had no idea where Marlar was. Officers said today they have no clues leading to the capture of Marlar.

President Sees Overtaking of Reds in Space

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy says the United States is pouring billions of dollars and a tremendous effort into overtaking Russia in space—"and I think by the end of the decade we will."

This was a sort of hopeful look at long-term prospects in response to a news conference question Wednesday about Russia's orbiting of twin cosmonauts.

It was tempered by mention an even dozen times that this country now is behind, second, or late or that the Soviets have a lead. Kennedy said: "Anybody who attempts to suggest that we are not behind misleads the American people."

Russia or Russians figured in one way or another in a wide range of conference topics.

For example, Kennedy said "The Bloc"—he meant the Communist bloc—has put large quantities of supplies and an increased number of technicians into Cuba in recent weeks. He said there is no similar information about troops.

He said that if Soviet Premier Khrushchev comes to the United Nations this fall—and he doesn't know that Khrushchev will—"I would hope I would have a chance to talk with him" and any other heads of government who might come.

The President said that Russia's action in abolishing its commandant's office in Berlin certainly cannot by itself affect U.S. rights based on a four-power agreement with the Soviets, Britain and France.

Getting closer to home, Kennedy put himself in the cheering section for a Senate subcommittee's investigation of profits on America's stockpiling of $8 billion in strategic materials.

The President said and repeated that extremely large profits were made by the Hanna Mining Company with very little risk to the firm, that he could understand the desire of some witnesses "to limit the investigation by charging it is an attack on former President Eisenhower, but I think the Congress ought to do its job."

Kennedy spoke of former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey as a responsible official of the company. Humphrey has contended the inquiry is an attempt to slap at Eisenhower through himself.

Other cases are coming up, Kennedy said, and they involve large profits by a good many people.

The session with reporters got under way with news from Kennedy that the U.S. nuclear submarines Skate and Seadrone one from the Atlantic Fleet and one from the Pacific, had met under the Arctic ice cap and had surfaced together through a hole at the North Pole. Kennedy called it "an historic rendezvous," and "exceptional technical feat," and congratulated all involved.

From there he went into a bid Continued on Page Two

"This was the right season to bring up political questions. And Kennedy said he will be putting in some time campaigning in late September and October. 2nd Murder Trial Slated to Start

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — The second trial of Gurvis Basil (Buddy) Nichols, 16, charged with first degree murder, is scheduled to begin Monday Circuit Court.

The West Memphis youngster is charged with the shotgun slayings of Douglas Brock Taylor, 9, and James Wallace Melton, 11, on Sept. 9, 1960.

The two boys were killed from bullets from a .410 shotgun on a bridge at the northeast edge of West Memphis. The three were on a hunting trip together.

The first trial of Nichols, a year ago, ended with the jury deadlocked eight to four. There was no indication what the majority favored.

It required two days to obtain a jury for the first trial, but 56 jurors from the February panel have been called for duty for the new trial.

The state is not expected to ask the death penalty this time.

Nichols was examined by doctors at the State Hospital in Little Rock and found to be without psychosis. The defense contended in the first trial that Nichols was psychotic.

Vote Divided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., voted for the omnibus farm bill passed by the Senate Wednesday; Sen. John L. McClellan, D - Ark., against. The bill passed 47-33.

This Was a Very Colorful Man

HUDDESFIELD, England

(AP)—When John O'Toole's face turned blue and his hands yellow, doctors had an explanation. But still puzzling them is: why did his ears turn red?

O'Toole, 32, is a laborer at the Imperial Chemical Industries plant. Walking home from work the other evening, he felt fine and it wasn't until he noticed everyone gaping at him that he became uneasy.

Looking into a mirror on arriving home, he was shocked at becoming a human rainbow. He rushed to a hospital for a series of injections that restored his normal color.

O'Toole had been working with yellow chemical. Doctors said this accounted for his hands turning yellow, and it created a mild cyanosis making his face blues.

But those red ears! They could offer no immediate medical explanation.

Cross Co. Farmer, Leader Dies

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — Andrew N. Falls, prominent Cross County farmer and implement dealer, died today at Cross County Hospital in Wynne. He was 87.

Falls was born at Pottsville, where he graduated from high school before studying at the Keys Institute in Little Rock. For several years he worked in Dardanelle, Danville and Russellville.

In 1934 he founded the Platers Equipment Co. of Earle which developed into the Falls Implement Co. of Parkin in 1937. Falls Equipment Co. of Wynne was added in 1941.

Falls also had extensive farmland in Cross County.

Funeral will be at 5 p.m. Friday in Wynne.

Falls is survived by a widow, two sons and two daughters.

County to Discuss Industrial Board

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP)— A public meeting will be held tonight in Harrisburg to discuss the formation of a Poinsett County Industrial Development Council.

Horace Smith of Harrisburg, chairman of the county study committee, and other members will attend the meeting.

Employees of Airline Cross Picket Line

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eastern Airlines employees crossed picket lines today as the company put its entire jet fleet in the air, ending a 60-day strike.

For the first time in more than 10 years, there were only three men in the cockpit, two pilots and one pilot engineer.

J. O. Jarrard, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said Eastern has replaced all striking employees and is proceeding toward full operation, scheduled for Sept. 13.

Eastern said piston-engine flights will be restored Sept. 13. A spokesman said some of the less-profitable flights will be dropped, but did not say how many.

Malcolm MacIntyre, EAL president, said last week that a streamlining of service would mean 4,000 to 5,000 employees in all departments would not be recalled Sept. 13.

Eastern's flight engineers struck June 23 over whether a pilot or an engineer would occupy the third seat in jetliner cockpits when the crews are reduced from four men to three.

Flight engineers agreed Wednesday to binding arbitration if Eastern and the pilots would concur William Grogan, a vice president of the AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union, suggested arbitration.

Chancellor Dies

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ruth F. Hale, 57, of Little Rock died Wednesday. She became, in 1947, the first woman chancery judge in the United States when she was named Pulaski chancellor by former Gov. Ben Laney. She was a master in chancery court at her death.

Passage of Drug Bill Expected

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate moved today toward prompt passage of a drug bill given a new push by President Kennedy.

The bill, designed to strengthen safeguards against the sale of dangerous or ineffective drugs, was listed by Kennedy Wednesday as one of "five particularly important measures" on which Congress will be acting shortly.

Others he referred to at his news conference were the farm bill, a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax in federal elections, the trade expansion bill and the U.N. bond issue bill.

Shortly after the drug bill was called up in the Senate late Wednesday, quick agreement was reached on a limitation of debate that should bring a final vote before the end of today's session.

The bill, as first approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee last month, fell short of what Kennedy asked. Since then, in the wake of the furor over the sedative thalidomide, the committee has approved strengthening amendments.

The legislation was introduced more than a year ago by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, after a lengthy investigation of the prescription drug industry.

Stripped from the bill by the Judiciary Committee were antitrust provisions Kefauver contends are necessary to substantially reduce what he calls exorbitant drug prices.

Kefauver failed to win administration backing for these provisions, but he has re-offered them in modified form.

His key amendment provides for compulsory licensing of prescription drug patents after three years when the price to the pharmacist represents a mark-up of 500 per cent or more over the factory cost. Licensees would have to pay royalties of 8 per cent on sales.

In the safety area, Kefauver has an amendment giving the government authority to require the testing of new drugs on animals before they are used in clinical testing on humans.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., had ready for introduction today a measure which would outlaw the sale and distribution of sleeping pills and pep pills by all except drug companies, hospitals, clinics, public health agencies, doctors and pharmacists. It would establish strict accounting and reporting procedures.

GOPs Plan Financial Program

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Plans for a grass roots party financial campaign were outlined Wednesday night by Winthrop Rockefeller to the Boone County Republican Club.

Rockefeller is national GOP committeeman from Arkansas.

He told about 175 persons from a three-county area of a plan begun in Mississippi whereby party members sign bank drafts allowing withdrawal of monthly amounts.

The funds, Rockefeller said, would be used to purchase advertising and to support local and state Republican candidates.

Several of these candidates shared the platform with Rockefeller. Members attended from Boone, Carroll and Newton counties.

The committeeman was critical of both President Kennedy and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

He said Kennedy could "get worked into a lather over things he found he wasn't running" and that he (Rockefeller) probably knew "more about cattle raising than Kennedy does about water skiing at Hyannis."

Fulbright, he said, is full of intriguing quotes which reveal the fallacies of his thinking.

Co-ops Going on With Power Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A plan to link 11 private companies with the Tennessee Valley Authority will not affect plans of Arkansas co-operatives to build a second steam generating plant.

Harry L. Oswald, general manager of the co-operatives, said Wednesday, "We think the plan is as important as ever."

Arkansas Power and Light Co., under the linkage plan, will join other firms in the exchange of up to 1,500,000 kilowatts of peaking power.

One of the proposed power exchange points would be at West Memphis, near where the co-operatives plan a generating plant in Woodruff County.

Oswald said the co-operatives hope to tie into the over-all system.

The co-operatives have under construction now their first plant, the Fitzhugh Steam Electric Generating Plant near Ozark. It is scheduled for completion next March.

First Rice Crop

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — Harvest of the first rice in Jackson County was reported to the Jackson County Rice Drier here Wednesday by Herschel Koettel of Rummel, south of Newport. Koettel said he plans to fertilize his land and try for a second crop of Bell-Patna rice this year.

Fatally Injured During a Fight

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Willie Mae Fletcher, 51, a Negro, was fatally injured Wednesday night when she was struck with a chair during a fight at her home.

Little Rock Police Dept. Detectives A. L. Halcomb and B. C. Layne said she tried to stop a fight between a man and a woman when the man struck her with a chair.

Officers said she went outside and sat on her front porch and then collapsed. She was dead on arrival at a Little Rock hospital. No arrests had been made today.

Two Charged for Having Marijuana

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock police charged four men Wednesday with possession of marijuana.

Police said the men were Wilford Harrison, Parlin Jr., 19, James Richard Brown, 18; Earl L. Davis, 22 and Frank C. Seford, 29, all of Little Rock.

The four were arrested Tuesday and police said over a pound of marijuana was found in their homes.

A hearing was scheduled at 8:30 a.m. today in municipal court.

Sheriffs May Invite in Arkansans

MEMPHIS (AP) — Formal consideration of a move to include Arkansas in the Tennessee and Mississippi Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association was scheduled for today.

The proposal, which has been the subject of active discussion during the group's 36th annual convention here, was due to come up for official action in a business session.

Other business on tap for today was election of officers and selection of the 1963 convention site.

Yesterday the delegates turned from official business to political speculation. An informal poll of the Mississippi contingent indicated that most of them thought former Gov. J. P. Coleman would win another term in the 1963 Mississippi elections.

Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson addressed the lawmen and charged the U.S. Justice Department with hindering law enforcement in South.

"They have granted special privileges to arrogant and defiant troublemakers who travel under the false banner of so-called civil rights," Patterson said.

Co-ops Going on With Power Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A plan to link 11 private companies with the Tennessee Valley Authority will not affect plans of Arkansas co-operatives to build a second steam generating plant.

Harry L. Oswald, general manager of the co-operatives, said Wednesday, "We think the plan is as important as ever."

Arkansas Power and Light Co., under the linkage plan, will join other firms in the exchange of up to 1,500,000 kilowatts of peaking power.

One of the proposed power exchange points would be at West Memphis, near where the co-operatives plan a generating plant in Woodruff County.

Oswald said the co-operatives hope to tie into the over-all system.

The co-operatives have under construction now their first plant, the Fitzhugh Steam Electric Generating Plant near Ozark. It is scheduled for completion next March.

Grand Slam by Kasko Wins for Redlegs

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Picking the Phillies to beat the Dodgers and the Mets to beat the Giants on the same evening is something like drawing to an inside straight.

Usually the house gets rich on such odds. Wednesday night, however, it was the Cincinnati Reds who picked up the chips.

The Reds, making a determined stab at repeating as the National League champs, used Eddie Kasko's 10th inning grand slam homer to beat the Chicago Cubs 9-5 while the leading Los Angeles Dodgers and second-place San Francisco Giants took their lumps from a couple of also-rans.

The stumbling Dodgers lost to Philadelphia 5-1 as Chris Short pitched a three-hitter, while San Francisco had New York on the ropes, then let the Mets get away 5-4.

The Reds trail Los Angeles by four games—the closest Cincinnati has been since the second week of the season—and are a half game behind San Francisco. Los Angeles retains a 3½ game margin over San Francisco.

Pittsburgh got three-hit pitching from Tom Sturdivant, blanking Houston 3-0, and Milwaukee rallied to beat St. Louis 6-4 in the others.

In the American League, the first place New York Yankees edged the Los Angeles Angels 4-3, Cleveland rapped Detroit 7-3, the Chicago White Sox edged Baltimore 7-6 and Kansas City defeated Boston 4-2. Washington and Minnesota played to an 8-8 stand-off for 10 innings before rain forced postponement.

The Reds, regaining the form that brought them the pennant last season, got support from an unexpected source in the victory over the Cubs.

Kasko, who faces possible loss of his starting assignment with the return of Gene Freese from the injured list, had hit only one home run this season before he unloaded with three men on base in the 10th. It was his 15th homer in six major league seasons.

Short, a lefty, was damaged only by Frank Howard's home run in pitching the Phils past the Dodgers. A walk to Bob Oldis, a sacrifice and Tony Taylor's line single broke a 1-1 tie for the Phils in the seventh and home runs by Johnny Callison and Don Demeter put it out of reach in the eighth. Short walked two in winning his eighth in 15 decisions.

San Francisco rallied from a three-run deficit to tie the Mets 4-4 in the top of the eighth, only to lose it in the bottom of the inning. Ken MacKenzie reached base on an error leading off the Met eighth and Don Larsen was relieved by Bob Garibaldi after walking Richie Ashburn. A single by Charlie Neal drove in the tie-breaker.

Knuckleball specialist Sturdivant (6-3) had no-hitter for 4 1/3 innings as Pittsburgh eliminated Houston from the race. The only Colt hits were singles by Hal Smith and Al Spangler and a double by Bob Lillis.

They Forgot the Dog Licenses

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The owners of Rex and Bo Bo acquired the dogs 52 days ago but let them run around without licenses. Somebody forgot.

Somebody else pointed it out. Licenses were hurriedly purchased and backdated to July 1. That was the day Rex and Bo Bo became members of the Police Department's K-9 Corps.

Some Praise But Cats Not Yet Sharp

By VINCE FOSTER

"Some of them are coming along, but the team as a whole is not sharp yet," said Coach John Pierce after Wednesday's practice. He again expressed his desire to have a scrimmage Friday.

Fullbacks Richard McDowell and Billy Aldridge were noted for their blocking ability as they fought out for the starting position. 160 pound senior halfback Roy Wray was mentioned for his hustling. Also quarterbacks Earl Ray Murphy, Mack McLarty and Gary Mayfield were commended by Coach Pierce for their leadership abilities shown during the drills.

Don Jones, full of spirit as usual, is holding his place as varsity center while another junior, John Hughes, is making progress and showing desire at end. Line Coach Beasley remarked "Chuck Beggs is picking up on drills and can move some people out when he makes up his mind to." Also Beasley noticed the hustle of end Larry Cook and guard Tony Purdie.

Coach Ballard said that the "B" squad is slowly advancing, and that George Wright seems to be working especially hard among the Junior Varsity boys.

Yogi Raps Out 2-Run Homer as Yanks Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Yogi Berra, a roly poly Satan, has shoved his pitchfork right into the Angels' inflated haloes.

The veteran catcher played a devil of a game for the New York Yankees Wednesday night, driving in three runs and applying the crusher against the pennant-hopeful Los Angeles Angels with a two-run eighth inning homer that gave the American League leaders a 4-3 victory.

Berra drove in the first Yankee run with a single in the first inning. In the eighth, with the world champions trailing by a run in the second game of the key three game series, the 37-year-old receiver tagged a two-run homer that knocked the Angel haloes askew.

It was the second sudden-ending finish suffered by the Angels, whose dreams were punctured Tuesday night when the Yankees struck for seven runs in the 10th inning and an 11-4 triumph.

The latest defeat dropped the Angels to third place, six games behind the Yankees and a half-game back of Minnesota. The Twins moved up to 5½ back when their game with Washington was halted by rain after 10 innings with the score tied 8-8.

Elsewhere, Dick Donovan posted victory No. 16 as Cleveland belted Detroit 7-3. Mike Hersherberger's ninth inning homer gave the Chicago White Sox a 7-6 decision over Baltimore and Kansas City's Moe Drabowsky won his first in the AL with a 4-2 triumph over Boston.

In the National League, Philadelphia knocked off the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 5-1, the New York Mets edged second-place San Francisco, 5 to 4, Cincinnati pulled to within four games of the top by beating the Chicago Cubs 9-5 in 10 innings. Pittsburgh blanked Houston 3-0 and Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 6-4.

The Senators and Twins played see-saw all night with Minnesota sending it into extra innings with two runs in the ninth. The Senators moved out front in the 10th when Joe Hicks singled and eventually scored on a fielder's choice. Rich Rollins' run-producing single in the bottom half knotted the count again. At this point, rain halted play for the third time and the umpires decided to let them replay it tonight.

Donovan (16-7), a 34 year old veteran aiming for his first 20-victory season, started the Indians game-winning rally in the eighth inning with his third single. Willie Tasby then reached base on Dick McAuliffe's error on a doubleplay grounder that could have ended the inning. Al Luplow followed with a triple that snapped a 3-3 tie and tagged Don Mossi (8-12) with the loss.

Hersherberger decided the White Sox-Orioles struggle with a two-out homer in the ninth off Hoyt Wilhelm (5-9) that won it for Chicago and Frank Baumann (6-4). The Orioles had pulled into a tie at 6-6 in the seventh inning on a walk to Whitey Herzog, singles by Jim Gentile and Brooks Robinson and an error by Jim Landis.

Drabowsky (1-0) gave up a homer to Ed Bresswood in the fourth, then was tagged for one by Gary Geiger in the eighth and John Wyatt had to come on to finish up a seven hitter.

Insurance Available for Students

A school child accident insurance plan underwritten by Provident Life Insurance Company under which the parents of every enrolled child in the Hope Public School system will be offered low cost accident insurance, has been approved by the School Board. James H. Jones, Superintendent of Hope Public Schools, announced today.

A school accident plan will assure every every child attending school in Hope School District adequate medical attention in case any accident occurs to him in connection with his normal school activities.

"What the plan will do for your child," pays up to $5,000 medical expenses resulting from accidental injuries. Within a school building or on the school grounds or premises during the hours and on the days when school is in session, including the lunch period; or after schools, or on days when school is not in session provided the insured is participating in any activity sponsored and supervised by the school.

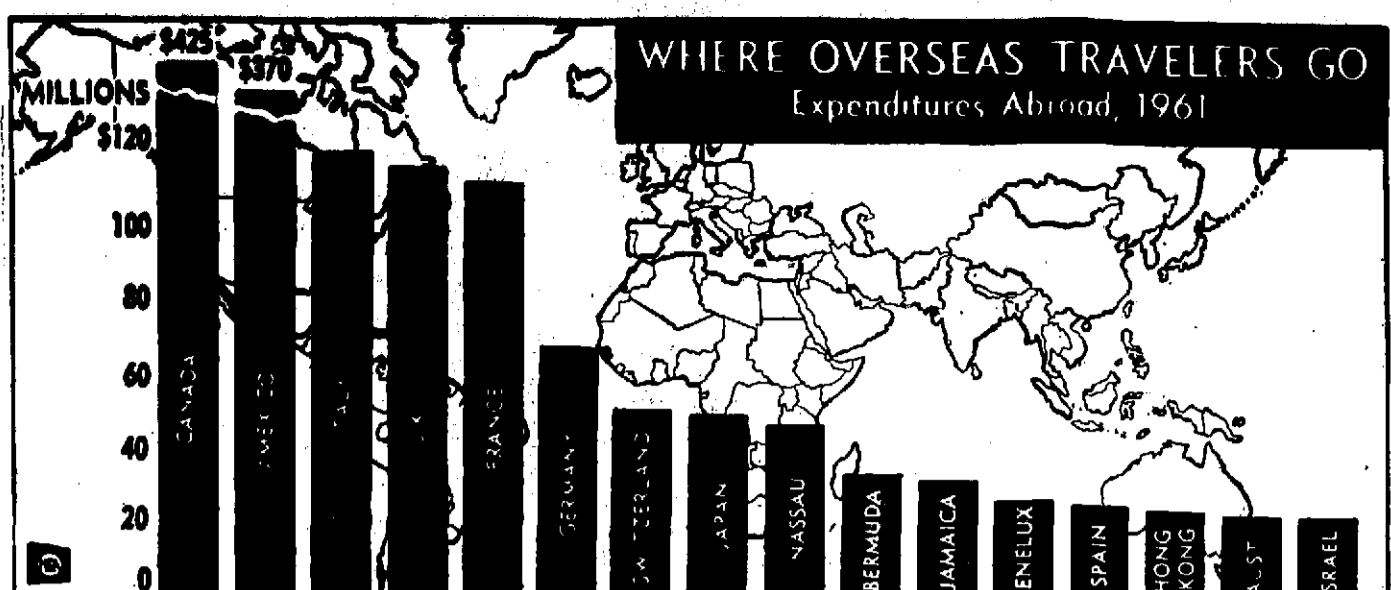

Information explaining the plan, will be sent to all the parents by the students. Please study this and, if interested, complete the application on the envelope and enclose $3.00 and send back to the teacher. Students are covered when the premium is paid to the teacher.

Parents may select a plan which has 24 hour coverage — 12 months per year and provides complete accident coverage on a "Round-the-Clock" basis. Provides accident insurance not only at home, but at school or at play, on weekends, and during the entire summer when school is not in session.

Parents may select either plan as follows:

Plan 1: $3.00 School Time Accident Coverage—going to and from school, and during school hours, Grades 1—12 inc. Plan 2: $10.00 Round the Clock Protection—At home or away—at school or at play—holidays—in camps—weekends—during summer vacation—24 hours a day — any time — any place, Grades 1—12 inc.

Both plans cover $1,500. death benefit by accident.

AMERICANS ABROAD—About one and one-half million Americans traveled overseas last year. They spent $2.6 billion dollars, about the same as in 1960. Of this, $1.7 billion was spent in foreign countries (Newschart above shows the major countries and areas); the remainder, $895 million, went for fares to these countries. Foreign carriers got 58 per cent of this transportation cost. Number of American travelers abroad has more than doubled since 1951, with all the increase going to air travel. Local Folks Are in the State News

Youthful doings around the state:

The decision of a couple of youths to camp out one night caused a small furor in Hope. Particularly since the boys didn't let anyone know their plans.

Police searched several hours before the two, age 11 and 13, were found sound asleep in their camp — a stock barn at the park.

Golfer Jerry King of Fayetteville has joined that honorable fraternity of holders of the ace. King picked up his hole-in-one while playing in the annual Razorback Invitational Tournament.

When a Canadian youth told a Batesville reporter she was having a hard time adjusting to Arkansas' hot weather, a bit of international confidence was exchanged.

The reporter confided that he wasn't exactly cool either.

The lass was Andree Sauvageau, 18, of Hull, Quebec. She said she saw two things while in Arkansas she had never seen before—cotton fields and a baseball game. Her favorite sport? Skiing.

Admits Help to Estes in Acreage Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Orr testified today he wrote checks for $25,000 and $510 last February to help Billie Sol Estes engineer a subterfuge to obtain cotton acreage allotments from the government.

Orr, president of the Superior Manufacturing Co., told the story at a hearing before the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Orr is awaiting sentence in Texas now on charges of interstate transportation of fraudulent securities. Estes, indicted with Orr and others in that case, has pleaded innocent.

The Senate subcommittee is concerned primarily with determining whether anyone in government aided Estes' operations under federal farm programs.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., and Donald F. O'Donnell, the subcommittee's chief counsel, pictured the deals described by Orr as desperate efforts by Estes to wrap a cloak of legality around his disputed juggling of cotton acreage planting allotments.

Orr swore he could not recall whether anyone in the Estes camp had told him the check-writing deal—in which the $25,000 check disappeared with no cost to him—was designed as a test case for a scheme to bring apparent third parties into Estes' allotment deals and thus throw federal investigators off the track.

Orr testified that as a favor to Estes he wrote the two checks—both payable to Conway Majors, one of the farmers whose cotton planting allotments Estes is alleged to have illegally purchased, and lease-back arrangements.

John C. Bagwell, general counsel in the Agriculture Department, has testified that he advised Secretary Orville L. Freeman last April 11 that bringing third parties into deals similar to Estes' case would be legally supportable.

Bagwell said Freeman vetoed the idea and ordered a crackdown on Estes in which the Pecos, Tex., manipulator's disputed allotments were canceled and he was assessed civil fines totaling $554,000 as a consequence.

Bagwell said Undersecretary Charles S. Murphy, rather than Freeman, was the official who really ran the cotton program.

Stars of two top television Western series will be featured at the 1962 Arkansas Livestock Exposition, October 1-6. Sheb Wooley, who is Scout Pete Nolan on "Rawhide," will appear at the championship rodeo in Barton Coliseum for the first three days of the week-long exposition to be followed by Lorne Greene and Dan Blocker—Ben and Hoss Cartwright in "Bonanza"—Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Beach as Usual for Kennedys

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and her daughter Caroline, safely through an earthquake that rattled windows but did no damage to their vacation villa, went to the beach as usual today.

Mrs. Kennedy was reported to have assured her husband that she and their 4-year-old daughter were well.

The quake Tuesday night caused only a slight tremor here. Pictures fell off a few walls.

Homecoming Is Joyous

MEMPHIS (AP) — When Edward R. Shore Jr., came home after more than a year as a prisoner of pro-Communist forces in Laos, he feasted on mom's cooking and took a long nap.

It was a joyous homecoming Tuesday for the lanky Tennessee farm boy who spent 15 months in a thatched hut prison. He was greeted at the Memphis airport by his excited parents and a score of relatives and friends.

Shore, who celebrated his 30th birthday in the prison, was captured by Pathet Lao guerrillas May 15, 1961 when his helicopter was forced down behind red lines by mechanical failure. He was released Friday.

After a three-week rest Shore will go to Washington to discuss his future plans with Air America, the private firm for which he was flying in Laos.

Parks Publicity Director Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Louis Oberste of Little Rock will succeed Clovis Copeland as state publicity director, the Publicity and Parks Commission announced today.

Oberste is a native of Little Rock and has held various news and public relations positions. He was public information officer for the state Civil Defense and has worked in the secretary of state's microfilm department.

He was formerly employed by television stations KATV and KARK in Little Rock and also did commercial art and worked for a sales promotion film firm. Copeland retired Aug. 15 to go into the newspaper publishing business in Morrilton.

Bob Evans of Helena is executive director of the state Publicity and Parks Commission.

Rotate Infantry

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The rotation of U.S. infantry men stationed in Thailand is under way, a U.S. spokesman said today.

He said an advance party of 150 officers and men of the 1st Battle Group, 35th Infantry, had arrived at the camp of the Hawaii-based 1st Battle Group, 27th Infantry, about 115 miles northeast of Bangkok. A similar-size unit of the 27th—the Wolfhounds—has left for its home base in Hawaii.

Jury Picked in Murder Trial

DANVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The first degree murder trial of Julian Amos Kissime, 51, entered its second day today.

A jury of 12 white men was chosen late Tuesday afternoon. One witness, Yell County Sheriff Herman McCormick, testified about his investigation of the case.

Kissime is charged in the fatal shooting of Olen Dixon, 47, of Center Ridge last September. The shooting allegedly occurred at a construction site on state Highway 27 near Onyx.

The charge states that Kissime, a foreman for the Freshour Corp. of Sweet Home, was in a pickup truck and shot Dixon with a .32 caliber pistol as he walked toward the truck.

The state and attorneys for Kissime were expected to call about 10 witnesses.

May Take in Arkansas Group

MEMPHIS (AP) — The Tennessee and Mississippi Sheriffs and Peace Officers Association is speculating on the possibility of including their Arkansas colleagues.

The possibility of bringing Arkansas into the association came up Tuesday at the 36th annual convention here. It was expected to come up for formal consideration today or Thursday.

Among the activities planned today were a "pistol shoot" at the Shelby County penal farm and a tour of the ultra-modern Armour Fire and Police Training Center here.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negroes resumed picketing today of a Negro-owned restaurant in Little Rock which they claim is segregated.

The cafe was closed Tuesday for cleaning.

Mrs. L. C. Bates, former state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said pickets were back at the restaurant, Fisher's Barbecue, today.

Picketing began Monday. The NAACP is acting as legal advisor for the picketers, Mrs. Bates said.

The Negroes contend that white facilities at the restaurant are cleaner and have air conditioning, while facilities for Negroes are not air-conditioned and are not as clean.

Mrs. Clorice (Doll) Robinson, owner of the restaurant, said her cafe did not have segregated policies. Mrs. Robinson said Negroes and white persons can sit anywhere in the cafe they desire to.

Mrs. Robinson said she had been operating the cafe for 24 years.

Checkup for Hoover

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, en route to Washington, had a checkup today for his annual physical.

He is expected to remain at the hospital for two or three days.

Woman Who Killed Baby Is Insane

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A young mother who told a church congregation here June 6 that she smothered her six-month-old baby has been declared insane and ordered committed to the State Hospital.

Dr. George W. Jackson, hospital superintendent, said in a letter to Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs Tuesday Mrs. Geneva Arline Smith, 22, of Hot Springs, "suffered from a personal trait disturbance with psychotic reactions."

Her commitment was sought in the letter.

The infant, Floyd Dennis Smith, died June 2. Mrs. Smith told the church congregation four days later that she had a "pang of conscience." She said she pressed the boy's head into her lap until he stopped breathing.

An autopsy revealed the infant died of a lack of oxygen.

Israelis Blamed

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — A Syrian army spokesman blamed Israelis today for a series of shooting incidents on the frontier Tuesday. No casualties were reported by either side.

"The army is alert to chop any hand which infringes on Syria's border," he said.

All TV Roles Fall in Two Categories

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—All television roles, whether leading parts or walk ons, fall into one of two categories: tours de force or potshots.

This is the analysis of Audrey Christie, a happy refugee from Broadway and soap opera, currently playing a patsy in "Fair Exchange," CBS' forthcoming experiment in weekly, hour-long situation comedy.

"A tour de force role is one in which something happens to the character itself," Miss Christie explained. "It is the narcotic addict, the one who commits the murder, the neurotic woman who keeps telephoning the police when she's alone and scared in the lonely house."

"But if you play a patsy, you are busy running around laying out the lines for the star, the hand which infringes on Syria's border," he said.

plot and setting things up so they will happen to other characters. Patsies are the man in the next call, landladies who saw the murderer or—as I am now—a nagging mother."

Miss Christie's patsy mother is commanding general of a TV-type household consisting of hen-pecked husband and teen-age son plus a young visitor from overseas.

This is all part of an elaborate device — contrasting the homelife and mores of Hollywood's conception of average, middle-class American and British families — to keep the home viewers chuckling for a full hour (less time out for commercials, of course) come fall. At its foundation, it is really a double feature — two situation comedies in one big package.

The gimmick that weds the two is having the English family and the American family exchange their teen-age daughters for a year. Each show will relate what is happening in both families.

All this, of course, makes it necessary to have two complete casts and two complete groups of sets. But there is only one camera crew, so things are worked out to have the English cast rehearsing in one part of the studio while the American cast is busy before the film cameras, an dvice versa.

By A. J. BENCHLEY

Jerry Parkinson was home from a three-year construction job in South America and although Liz, his wife, was happy, she felt a nagging anxiety. Jerry had taken their son Chip for a swim.

Not that Liz was afraid anything would happen; her fears were deeper than that.

About 9:30 a car pulled up. Happy laughter echoed from the porch. She went to the door to be greeted by a damp-haired, grinning youth, who planted a wet kiss on her cheek.

He turned to Jerry. "Let's have supper" to eat, Dad!

"Sure, son," said Jerry, winking at Liz.

After the snack and Chip was tucked into bed, Jerry entered the doorway of his son's room. He picked up the discarded clothing scattered on the floor. He piled the garments neatly on a chair and then tiptoed from the room.

Liz watched with concealed amusement. This was a novelty. It wouldn't last. Jerry was renewing an acquaintance with a boy he hadn't seen for three years.

An uneasy feeling struck Liz. For three years now she had had Chip to herself. His affection was precious to her. It had filled the gap left when Jerry had gone away. Now Liz would have to share Chip's love with Jerry, and Chip would no longer be hers alone.

Suddenly she didn't want to share Chip, to lose that precious affection. She didn't want to lose the smallest part of the small boy's love for her.

"Have fun?" she asked as Jerry entered the living room.

"It was kinda funny," Jerry said solemnly. "Chip acted like he was afraid of the water."

"I wouldn't let him go swimming while you were away," she said.

"Why not? He swims like a fish."

"I was always — well — afraid. He was all I had with you gone."

She shook her head. "Even to night I was a little worried."

"Why?"

"Well, this change was drastic. He has a father all at once after three years without one."

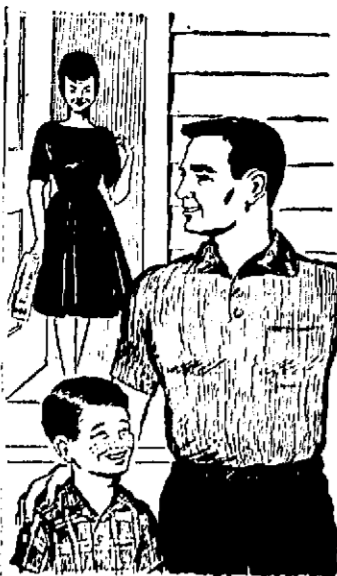

"He always knew he had one," Jerry shook his head. "Sometimes sudden changes are good for a kid. He was getting too dependent on you. He has to learn to take care of himself."

During the days that followed, Jerry and Chip were always together. Liz felt neglected, left out. But she tried to tell herself that Jerry and Chip were trying to get reacquainted. After all, Chip was half Jerry.

Still the feeling persisted, even though she told herself that Chip was as much Jerry's son as her own. Yet she couldn't rid herself of the fear that Chip's love for her was limited, that in sharing it she would lose some of it.

Liz had no idea of the feelings that Chip had for her, nor of the conversations he was having with his father. Nor did she know that she was a part of those conversations.

Then a week after Jerry's return Chip spoke to his father. "Poor, Mom! All she does is sit at home. She must be kinda lonesome. Dad. Can't she come along?"

"She had you for a long time when I didn't," said Jerry.

"But girls are okay sometimes," Liz listened from the kitchen. Liz stepped to the door.

"Oh, I'll stay home," she said, loudly and clearly. "I don't mind."

Jerry turned to her. "We didn't mean to leave you out, hon. It was just that — well, I haven't had time to do things with my son for three years. You had him all the time."

"I want her to go with us tonight. We can play miniature golf," said Chip.

Slowly Jerry nodded his head. "Of course she can come." He turned to Liz. "I think we ought to be together."

Liz smiled back at her husband. "I don't resent you, Jerry. It's just that I don't like being less important to Chip."

"I want you both," said Chip stoutly.

Liz looked at Jerry, who stared back at her. Then they both understood. She let him take her hand and they walked to the car.

Liz knew now she wasn't losing her son. Jerry wasn't sharing Chip either. Their son was growing up. Chip was sharing Liz and Jerry.

More Released in Viet Nam

VIETNAMESE, Laos (AP) — Right-wing Gen. Phoumi Nosovan released today six very shabbily dressed Viet Minh soldiers from communist North Viet Nam captured during the Laotian civil war.

Phoumi released the prisoners in accordance with the Geneva accord on Laos which specified that all foreigners captured during the war would be freed by today.

But informed sources said the rightist leader also wanted to prove that Viet Minh troops had been fighting alongside the pro-communist Pathet Lao forces.

Election Contest Filed in Pope

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Stanford Lee, a candidate for Pope County tax assessor in the Democratic runoff primary, has filed suit contesting results of a recount.

Unofficial results in the runoff primary last Tuesday gave Lee 2,810 votes to 2,801 for Floyd Johnson.

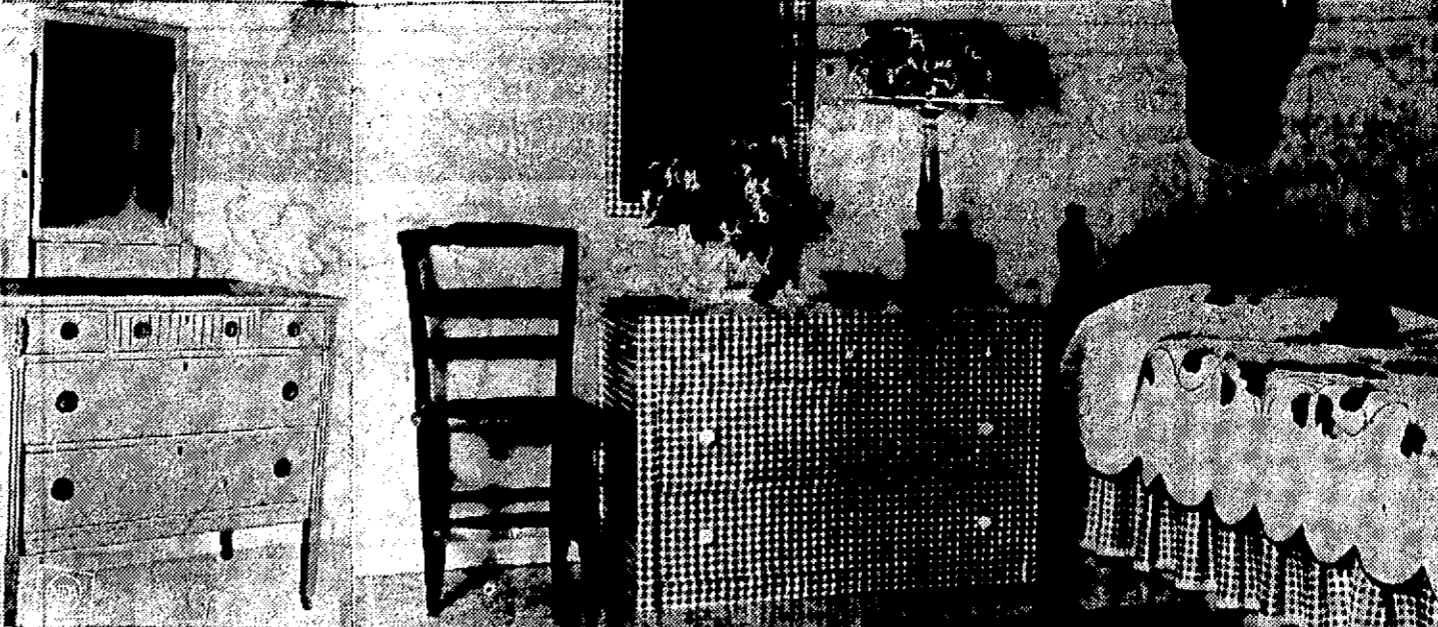

A recount, requested last Friday by Johnson, put Lee behind, 2,817 to 2,815.

The ballot boxes have been impounded by Circuit Judge Audrey Strait, and officials have been ordered to make available for inspection all voting lists.

The boxes have been taken from the Pope County Court House to the vault of the People's Bank and Trust Co. of Russellville.

Vietnamese Troops Kill 134 Reds

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops today reported 134 Red guerrillas killed in the first success of the government's major offensive to break the back of the Communist front in the Mekong River delta.

Military sources said the government's 1st Airborne Battalion encountered a large concentration of Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday night a few miles south of the operation's command post at Bac Lieu, in southern Ba Xuyen Province.

The informants said 54 Reds were killed in the ground fight and another 80 by air strikes. Government casualties totaled six killed and 14 wounded.

Government forces also captured a small store of Communist arms and fuel in the clash, the first time South Vietnamese troops have met a sizable Red force since they opened "Operation Bib Pacification" last week.

The first phase of the drive to clean out or scatter the heavy Viet Cong concentrations controlling most of Viet Nam's southern tip ended last weekend in disappointment for its American planners.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam and Thailand, and his high command had worked on the planning for three months and were highly optimistic when it got under way. But for four days, 4,000 government troops backed by fighter planes, U.S. helicopters and navy units pushed through Ca Mau peninsula at the tip of Viet Nam without making contact with any Viet Cong concentrations.

The estimated 2,000 guerrillas in the region melted into the thick mangrove swamps. American sources reported the drive netted only 60 Viet Cong dead.

The operation's second phase opened Tuesday as the government force turned northward to the river delta in Ba Xuyen Province, believed infiltrated by some 1,800 Red guerrillas in recent weeks.

Simpson Is Winner in Wyoming

By BOB LEERIGHT

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Former Gov. Milward L. Simpson, 65-year-old Cody attorney, staged a political comeback and won the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in Wyoming's primary election.

His opponent, Kenny Sailors, 41, Jackson Hole dude rancher and former professional basketball star, conceded defeat.

In the November election, Simpson will run against Democratic Sen. Joe Hickey. Hickey was unopposed in the Democratic primary but polled 25,626 votes in returns from 572 precincts.

Simpson led Sailors 17,878 to 11,709 in returns from 473 of 662 precincts.

At stake will be the four years remaining in the term of the late Senator-elect Keith Thomson, Republican, who died a month after the 1960 election. Hickey, governor when Thomson died, appointed himself to the Senate.

Acting Gov. Jack Gage, 63, who succeeded Hickey as governor, held a lead of Will (Scotty) Jack, 70, for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Returns from 572 precincts gave Gage 17,134 and Jack, 13,329.

Clifford P. Hansen, 49, Jackson rancher, won the Republican nomination for governor. Returns from 572 precincts gave Hansen 23,391 votes; Charles M. Crowell, Casper attorney, 14,122; and former Cheyenne Mayor R.E. Cheever, 3,620.

Rep. William Henry Harrison, a grandson of former President Benjamin Harrison, won the Republican nomination for a fourth term as Wyoming's only member in the U.S. House.

Lou Mankus, 39, Cheyenne attorney held the lead for the Democratic congressional nomination over former Laramie Mayor Stephen Moyle, 12,903 to 3,812.

Forged Checks Bring Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A man who said he bought round-trip airplane tickets with forged checks, then sold the return portion to have money for liquor was sentenced Tuesday to 40 months in prison.

Imon Odell Liles, 42, pleaded guilty before Judge J. Smith Henley to a charge of forging six checks, all written on the bank account of a relative at North Little Rock.

Attorney M. Drew Bowers said Liles had traveled about the country for six months on forged checks.

"I would let someone else ride on the return ticket and accept cash from them," Liles told Henley.

Area Develoment Act Is Discussed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Utilization of the federal Area Development Act was discussed Tuesday at the annual state conference of Arkansas vocational educators.

Under the act, classes are financed to train prospective employees in skills needed for existing industrial or agricultural jobs.

The conference opened Monday and closes today.

J. Marion Adams, assistant commissioner for vocational education, was among the speakers Tuesday. Adams said that previously the state has been training persons and "letting them go out and see if they can get a job."

"Under this act," he said, "we find out first about the jobs and then train them."

Classes are underway in Woodruff, Madison, Little River, Lincoln, Sharp and Johnson counties.

Washington was the first state to administer a welfare fund law, doing so in 1955.

Reds Have the Same Objective

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Only the mood is different this season with the Cincinnati Reds. The objective is the same as last year—the National League pennant.

Spirit, desire, breaks, good pitching and the big bat of Frank Robinson carried them to the title in 1961. But not until they actually clinched were the sceptics willing to concede.

Then came the disastrous World Series which the New York Yankees won, 4-1, and such murmurs as "lucky" and "cheese champs" were heard. In fact, the Reds were picked by many to finish as low as sixth this year.

The Reds will be the first to admit they have a long haul in a short period of time if they are to successfully defend their National League title. And they are the last to admit they are out of the race although they are in third place, five games behind the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

"There's still a month and a half to go," said manager Fred Hutchinson Tuesday after his club defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-0, on Marty Keough's two-run, inside-the-park homer which backed some nifty pitching by Jim Maloney.

"Remember this spring," said Hutchinson. "A lot of people

Recalls First Shots

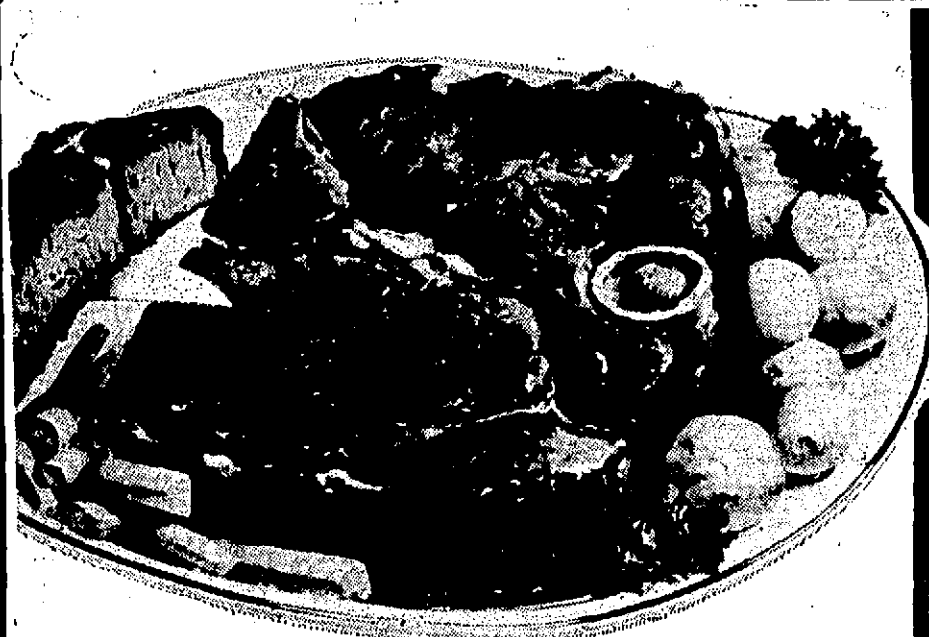

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Orren Harris, D-Ark., recalled Tuesday his own experience with penicillin as a reason for sharing industry doubts about the administration's omnibus drug bill. Harris, chairman of the House Commerce Committee, said after hearing witnesses object to a require-picked us to finish sixth. Well, we're not going to finish sixth. But we still have a chance for the pennant."

ment that the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare determine the "efficacy" as well as the safety of drugs for both man and animals that his first shot of penicillin gave him a strong reaction. Later doses produced no side effects. Harris said, "If we could establish the make-up of all the earth's three billion inhabitants, then we would have licked this thing of determining how drugs will affect people."

Tobacco products are made by some 632 factories, large and small, in 42 states of the Union.

Vegetables Best Bet at the Market

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fruits and vegetables of another generally good growing season are piled high on the market this weekend.

Housewives can take the hint. This is the time to buy for freezing or canning or for immediate low-cost meals. The same fruits and vegetables next winter will be selling at considerably higher prices.

One national food chain reports prices of many items down from last week, but singling out bargains is next to impossible. Regional price differences also confuse the picture.

The picture is clearer at the meat counter. Pork chops, duck and smoked beef tongues are featured by a large chain in the New York City area. At the fish counter, the same chain is offering best buys of scallops and shrimp.

Nationally, roasts, steaks and other beef cuts are at prices comparable to the best of the year. Some pork cuts, such as fresh loins, also are good buys.

Further back on the store shelves and freezers are excellent buys in frozen orange juice and milk.

Orange juice never has been more abundant. Stocks of orange juice recently were at 115,300,000 gallons, about 31 million gallons more than the largest previous late summer figure.

Here are some of the USDA's seasonal features.

Vegetables—Green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, corn, eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, radishes, squash, sweet potatoes, tomatoes.

Fruits—Apples, cantaloupes, grapes, nectarines, peaches, plums, pears, watermelons, and other melons such as honeydews and cantaloupes.

Meats—Frying chickens and turkeys.

Fish—Canned tuna, scallops, fish sticks and portions.

Famed Movie Producer 80 Years Old

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Samuel Goldwyn, whose 80th birthday will be marked by an industry dinner Sunday night, shows no loss of his powers as a negotiator.

"The backlog of Goldwyn movies, which he wholly owns, is one of the few remaining treasures as yet untapped by television."

"The networks come around every year to ask me about it," he remarked recently with a contented smile. "The offers get better every time."

"When I turn them down, they ask me what I would consider for the films. I tell them I am like a young man who wants to get married. He can't tell you what his future wife will be like, but he knows that he will recognize her when he sees her."

Goldwyn has had offers for the entire backlog and for "Hans Christian Andersen" as a holiday special. So far, no sale.

"I waited until feature pictures were being presented importantly in prime time, not in the afternoon or late at night when working people can't see them," he remarked. "Now that the networks are showing them in the evening, I might be interested."

Gig Young is once again carrying the comedy load in "Three on a Match," in which the leading man is Kirk Douglas. His last outing was the highly successful "That Touch of Mink" with Cary Grant.

The No. 2 position doesn't bother Gig. Nor does being pegged as a bumbling, offbeat character.

"An actor is always getting typed," he philosophized. "Right after the war, I was typed as Errol Flynn's buddy. Then I did 'Come Fill the Cup' and had a string of drunks."

"I did comedy on the stage in my early career, but I never had any in films until I played 'Oh Men, Oh Women' on Broadway. Now I'm typed in comedy. Listen—the way comedies are selling nowadays, that ain't bad."

"The Pigeon That Took Rome" is the latest effort to find laughs in warfare and it is largely successful. The film, photographed in Italy with Hollywood interiors, is a fanciful yarn about undercover work before the liberating of Rome. It explores some familiar themes but with some new twists and a healthy cynicism throughout.

Charlton Heston, obviously happy to be allowed into the 20th century, plays the yard-bitten Yank in fine style, and he gets much help from a lively Italo-American cast including Elsa Martinelli and Harry Guardino.

Resigns Position
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Maurice H. Stans, federal budget director in the Eisenhower administration, has resigned as president of Western Bancorporation, a holding company with 24 banking affiliates.

Stans, who held the post about 18 months, will be succeeded by Mont E. McMillen, president of the board of the First Western Bank and Trust Co.

Rockefeller Receives an Award

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas has been designated the first recipient of the Thomas Jefferson Public Service Citation for his work as board chairman of Colonial Williamsburg, a Virginia restoration project.

The award, symbolized by a sterling silver replica of Jefferson's writing desk, will be presented by the Old Dominion Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America at a dinner in Richmond Sept. 21.

The original desk, at Monticello, is reputed to be the one on which Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence.

Rockefeller has supervised the task of restoring Williamsburg's colonial atmosphere.

He lives near Morrilton, Ark., and for the past seven years has been chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. Rockefeller also is Republican national committeeman from Arkansas.

In connection with his work in Williamsburg, Donald B. McCammond, president of the Dominion Chapter, said he has "provided for Americans a vivid reminder of the liberties won for us by the early settlers."

Bids on Building

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The McDaniel Brothers Construction Company of Jonesboro submitted an apparent low bid of $899,320 Tuesday for construction of a new library for Arkansas State Teachers College at Russellville. Four other companies placed bids on the 6,000-square foot building, which will be financed by a million appropriation approved by the 1961 session of the state Legislature. The bids were taken under advisement.

What World of Science Is Doing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scientists cite progress in conversion of heat and wheat, and they work on a nuclear reactor monitor for use in space:

Electricity From Heat

Scientists say the thermionic generator, which converts heat directly into electricity, will become increasingly important on earth as well as in space.

Its fuel can be the intense heat inside a nuclear reactor or focused rays of the sun.

Dr. Robert W. Pidd of General Atomics Division, General Dynamics Corp., predicts the first important use of the generators will come from teaming thermionic cells with nuclear-powered plants generating electricity. They will produce current from temperatures ranging from 3,000 to 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit and boost plant efficiency by as much as one-third.

Later, nuclear-powered thermionic units may provide electricity for space vehicles and ocean vessels.

Thermionic converters work much like the familiar radio tube. Electrons boil off a heated element in a vacuum or in ionized vapor, are caught by a colder element and emerge as electric current.

SHIP MAN'S RADAR — Skippers entering New York Harbor may soon be watching television as well as buoys, charts and compasses as the result of an experimental Coast Guard program. At right, Coast Guard Lt. (j.g.) Eugene J. Hickey sees an animated scene of his own vessel and all other marine traffic moving through busy Ambrose Channel. The "electronic map" is broadcast over Channel 47 from the U.S.C.G. station at Sandy Hook, N.J., where Electronic Technician Frederick A. Warren Jr., right, adjusts the controls of the Raytheon-developed system. Called RATAN (Radar And Television Aid to Navigation), it converts radar views of the harbor into television transmissions, which can be picked up by ordinary television sets (able to receive UHF) aboard ships in the vicinity.

Business Is Hard to Convert

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy is finding labor just as hard to convert to his new guidelines for a booming economy as he found many leaders of big business and many top men in Congress.

A developing clash with labor could be one of the highlights of the struggle to get the economy moving faster—supposing the government can do it. And labor's sour view of the guidelines is sure to dominate much of next year's labor-management negotiations in many industries.

The labor-administration clash is over a shorter work week. The dispute of the administration with business is over the government's increasing role in collective bargaining and especially in monitoring price policies. The conflict with Congress in the economic field is over taxes and tariffs and spending, among others—all tied to economic growth, jobs and prices.

Labor has told the President it is tired of waiting for a seemingly sidetracked boost to economic growth to find jobs for the four million on more persons out of work, many for long periods.

The union leaders' idea is that a 35-hour instead of a 40-hour week either would furnish more jobs to get the same amount of production or would counteract some of the inroads of automation on factory and office employment.

The administration says it will stand firm on the 40-hour week as the norm. The President thinks that in some lines more work, rather than less, may be needed to get the economy moving fast enough to pull all the nation's capacity in operation and all its labor force to work.

And a 35-hour week with same pay as a 40-hour one would add to the pressure for higher prices. This the administration opposes—as witness its sharp reaction when steel companies tried to raise their prices last April.

As a matter of fact many labor contracts already call for less than a 40-hour week at standard pay. Anything over that brings extra pay. The most cited example is the 25-hour week won this year by electrical workers in the New York construction industry. But other contracts across the nation call for less than a 40-hour week.

The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations is calling for a major drive to win more of these shorter week contracts as negotiations come up in the months ahead.

It also will ask Congress to cut the present statutory 40-hour week to 35 by amending the federal Fair Labor Standards Act.

Humphrey, Associates Are Rapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., today charged former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and his associates in a multimillion-dollar stockpile nickel deal with deliberate misrepresentations and contradictory testimony.

With the explosive stockpiling hearings of a Senate Armed Services subcommittee in temporary recess, Engle, a member of the group, carried the dispute to the Senate floor.

The California Democrat, in prepared Senate speech of more than 10,000 words, cited numerous passages from Humphrey's testimony and records to backstop his charges.

Engle contended that the records established that Humphrey and the Hanna mining complex he formerly headed engaged in deliberate misrepresentations to overcharge the government on both nickel for the stockpile and costs of operating a government smelter.

He said the Humphrey family, through a 14 per cent ownership of Hanna stock, had made total windfalls and profits of $4,089,321 from the nickel contracts.

And, he questioned Humphrey's testimony denying earlier sworn testimony by a government auditor that certain Hanna records needed by the Senate inquiry had been destroyed.

"Now somebody is not telling the truth," Engle said. "I would draw no conclusion on this matter now, but this question will be resolved in one way or another—and we will find out just who is lying—when hearings on this matter are resumed."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the investigation committee refused to hear additional testimony by Humphrey and associates last Friday and accused Humphrey of impugning the motives of the Senate and its investigating group.

After suddenly recessing the hearing over protests of Humphrey and Republican members of the subcommittee, Symington underwent a hernia operation last Saturday. Aides said he is making a good recovery in a hospital here.

Largest producer of atomic gauging and measuring devices in the United States is the state of Ohio.

he had 50 years ago, eats 230 calories less per day. He makes more money and buys more meat, fresh produce, luxury and convenience foods, less of the staples like wheat products and beans.

Institute scientists say they've developed a chemical treatment for wheat that makes it a practical substitute for rice in various dishes.

In the chicken pilaf it tasted remarkably like wild rice, they found. Wild rice is much more expensive.

The wheat chips and toffee have also won farmers' enthusiastic approval and more new foods from wheat are on the way.

The researchers say their wheat treatment process is simple and cheap. But they are not prepared to disclose it yet.

Space Eye on Nuclear Reactors

When the United States rockets its first nuclear reactor into outer space, close tabs will be kept on the reactor operation. A monitoring system is being designed and built at a General Electric plant in San Jose, Calif.

Readings on radiation from the reactor—now being developed to provide 500 watts of electric power for satellite instrumentation—will be transmitted to ground stations. The information will be used for further development of nuclear power systems for space.

Neutron and gamma ray detectors and other components of the monitoring system, are designed to operate in temperatures up to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit.
